

Bees in Your Backyard: Bring Joy, Nature, and Life to Your Garden

Imagine the gentle buzz of happy bees in your garden – it's peaceful, rewarding, and connects you to nature. Bees are incredible pollinators that make your flowers bloom brighter, fruits and vegetables grow better, and your yard more vibrant. Support the environment, boost local biodiversity, and you might even enjoy a bit of your own honey one day. Backyard beekeeping is easier than you think and incredibly satisfying to watch your hive thrive.

We help homeowners like you get started with confidence.

Here's How We Help You:

- Permitting help – guidance on local rules for your address.
- Hive box – we provide a small plastic starter hive.
- Bees – free bees from rescues when available, or advice on reputable sources.
- Ongoing support – connect with local bee clubs or one-on-one lessons with beekeepers.
- Forage seeds – free flower seeds to give your bees plenty of food.

Availability: Bees and seeds depend on season and supply – contact us to learn more.

beespace.live

Permitting help is practical guidance, not legal advice.